THE RACEBOARD WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP AT STEINHUDER MEER

The windsurfers of the Raceboard class will meet in 2023 at Steinhuder Meer to determine their world champion in one of the best areas in Germany.

This doesn't happen every day. With over 160 participants from 20 countries, it is the largest event of its kind. Many world champions and Olympic participants from previous years have already confirmed their participation.

The World Championship in their own country will be the highlight of the German windsurfing sport in 2023.

Since 1997, the Yacht Club Niedersachsen has been the host for the Mistral Surfer class and later the Raceboard class. The past three years, we have been the organizers of the International German Championship, so we felt confident in organizing this World Championship to the satisfaction of everyone.

This World Championship is organized by the German Windsurfer Association (DWSV) and the International Windsurfing Association (IWA) and conducted by the Yacht Club Niedersachsen.

We witness how the sport of surfing and sailing brings together people from numerous countries and across all age groups. This is the best example of peaceful competition and collaboration.

We welcome all participants, guests, and contributors to Lower Saxony, to our regatta area - Steinhuder Meer - and wish them a pleasant stay.

STEFFEEN KRACH REGIONAL PRESIDENT HANNOVER

Dear members of the Yacht Club Niedersachsen,
With the World Championship of Raceboards, you are organizing one of the major sporting highlights in the Hanover region this year, bringing together raceboard surfers from all over the world at our beautiful Steinhuder Meer. Over 150 participants from 20 nations have already registered for the World Championship. This alone proves that sailing and its younger counterparts like windsurfing bring people together from all over. I personally share the passion for surfing, and I am all the more delighted that Steinhuder Meer is the venue for this international surf tournament. The fact that the World Championship of Raceboards is taking place here in the Hanover region is also thanks to the dedication of the members of the Yacht Club Niedersachsen. I want to thank you for that. You show how the work of clubs enriches our region and how collective and enthusiastic civic engagement can make a big impact. That is why the association sector is an important pillar in our regional society that we want to promote and strengthen. The Yacht Club Niedersachsen instills passion for sailing, encourages and enables those interested to hoist the sails and cruise against the wind – and it has been doing so for over 60 years. With the upcoming World Championship of Raceboards, your club demonstrates how vibrant sailing and the association sector are in the region. In that spirit, I wish the Yacht Club all the best and the participants of the Raceboards World Championship success on the water.

Yours sincerely,

Steffen Krach

NEUSTADT AM
RÜBENBERGE

Dear windsurfers, dear Raceboard enthusiasts,

Lower Saxony's largest lake is not only a home to the great crested grebe and the pike but also to water sports enthusiasts. In 2016, the Flying Dutchman class sailing World Championship took place here. Now, in 2023, surfers from all over the world are drawn to Steinhuder Meer, where a World Championship in the Raceboard class will be held on an inland lake for the first time - a great honor for our region and for the lakeside towns, including the district of Mardorf in the picturesque northern shore of Neustadt.

Mardorf is a traditional haven for inland sailors and has become a popular hub for surfers of all kinds in recent years. Kitesurfers, in particular, appreciate the surfer's beach on the northern shore of Steinhuder Meer. The comforts of Mardorf's beach have already been sung about by the singer (and Tatort detective) Ulrich Tukur - I invite you to see it for yourself at the Raceboard World Championship.

The planning, organization, and execution of a World Championship is a great challenge that requires a lot of time and effort. My recognition and special thanks go to all those who make this championship possible through their voluntary work, idealism, and perseverance.

I wish all participants favorable winds and all guests an unforgettable time at Steinhuder Meer.

GREETINGS

MONAS KÜPPERS

PRESIDENT OF THE GERMAN SAILING ASSOCIATION (DSV)

Dear participants of the World Championship, Dear friends of boardsports, You are about to embark on a truly exceptional event: over 154 windsurfers from 20 nations will compete for the World Championship title on the Steinhuder Meer. This starting field is record-breaking and demonstrates that the classic Raceboard remains one of the most attractive windsurfing classes.

A Raceboard doesn't have foils, nor can you perform spectacular jumps or reach top speeds. That's not what defines this class. What matters most is fair competition and the camaraderie both on and off the water. Protests are rare among you. At a Raceboard World Championship, any windsurfer can participate, making it an exciting and challenging competition for all skill levels. And on land, you are one big family. It's no wonder that Raceboard has so many fans worldwide.

For the first time since 2009, a Raceboard World Championship is taking place in Germany. I want to extend a big compliment to the organizers of this championship: the Yacht-Club Niedersachsen, the Steinhuder Meer Wettfahrtvereinigung, and the German Windsurfing Association. The preparation for this championship involved tremendous effort and dedication. Following the principle of "we come to your event, and you come to ours," German Raceboarders traveled to the 2022 World Championship in Argentina - and now, in 2023, several Argentine windsurfers are competing on the Steinhuder Meer. For overseas participants, personal efforts were made to organize loan equipment, making logistics as smooth as possible. The attention to detail in the evening program also reflects a passionate team that takes great joy in their work.

In short, everything is set for a challenging, fair, and sociable World Championship on the Raceboard. I wish all participants exciting races and the right intuition for the winds of the Steinhuder Meer.

Good luck!

The "thawed meadow" in the heart of Lower Saxony will once again become the focal point of the international sailing world for the second time in a few years! The Sailing Association of Lower Saxony is extremely proud to welcome the Raceboarders here in 2023 as participants in their World Championship!

The Yacht Club Niedersachsen, host of many ranking regattas, has given windsurfing a significant place in its club activities over the past decade. This connection culminated in the successful organization of the International German Championship for Raceboards in 2020, 2021, and 2022. This was undoubtedly a good recommendation to venture into even higher-level events. Now, we are delighted to congratulate the Yacht Club Niedersachsen on hosting the World Championship 2023.

According to the sponsorship concept of YCN, there is mention of, certainly not underestimated, 80 participants. At the time of writing this greeting, there were 142 participants on the entry list.....

GREAT! We will now come closer together on land. And gladly so, to enjoy the great sport of windsurfing. From my own experience, I can only advise the warmly welcomed international participants. Please try to STAND first in case of involuntary contact with the waters of Steinhuder Meer... only begin swimming movements if standing fails!

I would like to thank the members of the Yacht Club Niedersachsen who have been involved in months of voluntary preparations. Without your great commitment, such a major event would not be possible!

I wish the participants and organizers a successful World Championship!

Dear surfers, dear friends of sailing and surfing,

In just a few weeks, on June 12, 2023, the worlds23, the World Championship of Raceboard class surfers, will begin. As the President, it is my great pleasure to welcome surfers from 20 nations on behalf of the Yacht Club Niedersachsen and present the Steinhuder Meer as the venue for this international event.

We are proud that as a club with 175 members, we are capable of hosting such a significant event. Our club has a long tradition and experience in organizing regattas. For example, we have hosted the International German Championship for the Raceboard class in the past three years.

We are truly overwhelmed by the tremendous interest in this World Championship. So far, we have received registrations from 163 male and female surfers. This makes this World Championship the largest in recent years.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our sponsors, helpers, and the clubs at Steinhuder Meer. Without their support, it would not have been possible to organize this event.

We have planned everything in the past months and eagerly look forward to the opening with joy and excitement. You can expect a splendid venue right by the water, cheerful hosts, live music, and delicious food and drinks. The only thing you have to take care of, is the exciting competitions on the water.

Sporting regards

Dear participants, esteemed Yacht Club Niedersachsen, The German Windsurfing Association (DWSV) is delighted to be a guest at Steinhuder Meer and in your beautiful Yacht Club Niedersachsen for the Raceboard Class World Championship. We extend our heartfelt thanks for your hospitality. After our very positive experiences of our members in the last four years, all german participants are eagerly returning to Steinhuder Meer.

I`am very glad, that we have more than 20 registrated women fort he first official Women World Championchips in this class ever.

Windsurfing, as the origin of all trend sports, has a relatively short but exciting and constantly evolving history filled with innovation. We are thrilled that our efforts have contributed internationally to ensuring that windsurfing remains an Olympic sport and that the choice of IQ Foils has propelled windsurfing in an innovative, dynamic, and media-friendly direction. We are confident that both sailing sports, traditional sailing and windsurfing, can benefit from this development.

In this spirit, let us all unite to promote the most beautiful sport in the world and share our enthusiasm with as many athletes as possible

MARDORF, AT THE NORTHSIDE OF THE LAKE

Mardorf is one of the tourist centers at Steinhuder Meer and offers a good infrastructure for various leisure activities. For travelers without their own car, public transportation is well-developed. The former farming village, whose first documented mention as "Meredorpe" (village by the sea) dates back to 1171, has, like many other settlements, experienced numerous natural disasters, epidemics, wars, and famines throughout the centuries, leading to a decrease in population and even the relocation of the entire village. Originally located as Lütjen Mardrup directly by the sea, the gradual relocation of the settlement to the present-day area began in 1620. In restored half-timbered houses, you will find the tourist information center at "Aloys-Bunge-Platz".

WATER DEEP REGATTA COURSE WEATHER

There is an anecdote about a Berlin O-Jollen sailor who, upon arriving at the hosting club, asks in surprise, "What? I'm supposed to sail on this dewy meadow?", only to later in the day repeatedly tip his boat horizontally in strong west winds. No dewy meadow, as it turns out... The sailing area just outside the gates of Hanover, reachable in just under 30 minutes from the city center, is the largest inland lake in Lower Saxony, covering an area of nearly 30.00 km<sup>2</sup>, and is known among sailors as one of the best inland waters in northern Germany. Its oval shape and the limited land coverage in the surrounding area ensure consistent winds. In the so-called "Deipen" east of Wilhelmstein, water depths of over 2.50 meters can be found. Training sessions to prepare for the German Sailing Bundesliga on Steinhuder Meer have already been conducted here using a B-One (draft 1.60m) and a J/70 (draft 1.45m). However, in warm summers with little rain, evaporation can visibly reduce the water depth, causing the boat's keels and daggerboards to drag through the mud. The siltation of this shallow lake remains a persistent problem.

YACHT CLUB NIEDERSACHSEN

The Yacht-Club Niedersachsen (Lower Saxony) and many of its members have gained experience in regatta sailing and windsurfing over the years, and continue to do so today. Since 1997, we have traditionally supported Mistral windsurfing courses and later raceboards on Steinhuder Meer. We have previously hosted the International German Championship of the Raceboard class four times, and we will also host it again in 2024, organizing races on the lake. Through this collaboration, we provide well-organized race support, rescue boats, and specialized starting boat equipment.

REVIEW

The Yacht-Club Niedersachsen Hannover e.V has a tradition of supporting the Mistral and later Raceboard windsurfing classes on Steinhuder Meer since 1997. Amelie Lux and her brother Christian were Germany's biggest Olympic windsurfing hopes in the Mistral class in 1997 when we organized the first regatta together with SG Hameln and Race Director Dieter Polkowski.

WETTFAHRTVEREINIGUNG STEINHUDER MEER

The Steinhuder Meer is traditionally one of the most significant sailing areas in Germany. Sailing began here over a hundred years ago, with the first yacht club being established in 1906. Today, there are over thirty sailing clubs located on Steinhuder Meer, and during the summer, several thousand boats can be found at the docks. Guests have the option to bring their own boats and moor them at various docks during their vacation or rent a dinghy from a boat rental service in Steinhude or Mardorf. The water offers ample space for leisure and sport sailors, with an average of 40 regattas taking place each season. Our regatta crew is experienced and trained through numerous international championships and regattas.
